THE NARROW-GAUGE

ANSWER To Hon. Casey Young, from Mr. Ben Elseman, President of the Cham-

The following letter, in answer to the one from Hon. Casey Young, which we published in the APPEAL of Wednesday, was received by our congressman yesterday, and by his permission finds a place in our columns to-day: MEMPHIS CHAMBER OF COMMERCE, MEMPHIS, TENN., October 5, 1877.

Henris, Ienn., October 5, 1871.

Hon. Casey Young, M. C.:

Dear Sir—In response to your very able and exhaustive communication in Wednesday's Appeal, I beg to say that the chamber of commerce fully appreciates and indorses your efforts in advocating before the United States congress the improvement of our levee system, and will give you, from time to time, such assistance as it is in our power to give. In this connection, I would also state that the memorials recently sent out by this chamber for signatures, praying congressional aid to this great public enterprise, are meeting with the cordial approval of the people along the banks of our great river, and are being returned to us daily with large lists of signers. I have al o the pleasure of stating that the following committee were appointed by the chamber on yesterday, to attend the river improvement convention at St. Paul, on the eleventh instant:

Enoch Ensies, chairman;

Jerome Hill, George R. Phelan,
N. Fontaine, J. Harvey Mathes,
Jacob Thompson, N. M. Jones,
A. J. Kellar,
John W. Cochran.

We earnestly hope this convention may reach the most beneficial results. The citizens of Memphis and the Mississippi valley will ever gratefully remember your well-directed labors for the general good of its commercial and planting interests. Most respectfully, your obedient servant.

PARISIAN ART

Exemplified in F. Lavigne's Emportum of Fashion and Millinery Depot-The Grand Display of Imported Goods.

Among the leading establishments which give celat and magnificence to the character and commercial influence of Memphis, is the well-known and popular establishment of F. Lavigne, at No. 250 Main street. F. Lavigne is known far and wide as a direct importer and dealer in French millinery, fancy goods, human hair manufacturer, etc. At the opening, Thursday and Friday, the elegant establishment was filled with the beauty, fashion and culture of the city. The exhibition of goods was unusually fine, the pattern bonnets proving unexceptionably elegant, and a true exponent of the very larest Paristan styles. While Mr. F. Lavigne exce's a lothers in the manufacture and assortment of human hair goods, braids, ornaments, etc., it is well to say that in the line of French millinery and hats, bonnets and imported novelities, he has no competitor in Memphis. F. Lavigne's establishment is a mirror of Paris in all its varied magnificence of artistic style and beautiful elegance. The pattern hats and bonnets, for beauty of finish and superiority of quality, and as models of rare art and intelligent design, cannot be approached. In vain may you search through this city in quest of that which is elegant and fashionable, but nowhere will you find such recherche goods as F. Lavigne exhibits. All that the most experienced talent of the most accomplished modisies of Paris can execute, finds its exemplification in the elegant goods to be seen at F. Lavigne's, No. 250 Main street. Go there at once.

THE EXCELSIOR CLUB.

Organized for the Social and Benevo-People-What it 1s. and how it Acts.

The following is a copy of a communication which we received yesterday from the managers of the Excelsior ciub, an organization lately formed, and one which we hope will accomplish much good in the great field where it will work. The following is the communication: "We, the honorable social of the Excelsior club of ladies and gentlemen. a body whose motto is 'Friendship, Love and Truth,' whose aim is to establish unity and peace among themselves and good will toward all mankind, and who have, even at this late day, taken upon themselves the great and much-needed work in trying to bring about in the midst of our young ladies and gentlemen more virtue and temperance, that they may become such lovers of principle and truth that wrong will be shunned by them at all times; to maintain an immutable good name, which is inevitably necessary for their success through life. In view of the fact that 'we have many objects in contemplation,' yet all of them are for the sole purpose of improving, elevating and building up our young generation: Being impressed with the necessity of establishing some means by which we will be better enabled to consummate the exalted effort, do form ourselves into an organization for the purpose of furthering and carrying out the great principle of benevolence; and in order to camply with the above, we do assume the neverceasing effort to establish a library and musical association, and that said association may obtain and hold by purchase any property, personal or real, necessary for the accommodation or use of the club." Now, let this enterprise be encouraged. Both white and black should encourage, assist and promote its commendable object.

Purity, Strength, Economy. These three requisites are combined in Dooley's well-known yeast powder. A few trials will convince you that it is not only the best, but also the cheapest.

"Jean's" Answer.

Editors Appeal.—I promised, in a note to yourselves, that I would not trespass upon the columns of pur paper to carry on a reli-lous discussion, but it is very hard not to answer "X Y Z," and tell him that "Jean" does believe alt the miracles record—it in the bible—every one—even that of Jonah, and also of Joshua commanding the sun and moon to stand still, upon Gibson, and in the valley of Ajaton. It was no greater miracle for God to suspend the centrifugal and centripetal motion, and the laws of gravitation, than it was to have created those laws at the first. Yes, sir, "Jean" does believe that all scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, that the man of God may be thoroughly furnished unto every good work. As to men reterring everything to their convictions, and being guided by that, I would respectfully call the attention of "X, Y, Z," to Sam of Tarsus again. He was acting upon firm convictions that he was doing God service, until that light shome into his hoa I as well as to his bodily eyes, else would be never have ceased to persecute; and I will say just here, that every conversion or act of regeneration in the human soul is a miracle of divine power and mercy; for, until the Holy Spirit enables and persuades men to believe and accept the truth as it is in Jesus, they never can, and never will, believe and accept, such is the opposition of the natural heart to the bible plan of salvation.

WITHOUT SUBSIDY?

No! the So-Called Southern Pacific Railread has had Millions for the Texas and Pacific's Thousands, and

Yet it is not Satisfied, but Cries for More-A Statement of Facts to Make Even Jay Gould

San Diego Union: It is fully time that the monstrous falsehood so industriously c'reulated by the Central Pacific railroad monopoly, that its "Southern Pacific" branch has been "bullt without subsidy," was thoroughly exposed. The facts about the matter are as follows: The "Southern Pacific" branch of the Central Pacific railroad has received from the government thirteen million acres of the very best land in southern California. Much of this land has been sold at more than $100 per acre; much more of it at $75, $70, $80, $50, and $40 per acre, the latter being the minimum figure for thousands of acres. Take the who'e grant at the ridiculously low average of $10 per acre, and we have a acre, the latter being the minimum figure for thousands of acres. Take the who'e grant at the ridiculously low average of $10 per acre, and we have a land subsidy of $130,000,000. But, in addition to this, the road has received aid in county, city and private subsidies, amounting to the total sum of over $2,600,000. Here we have a grand total of national and local subsidy to the "Southern Pacific" of $132,600,000. And now Stanford, Huntington, Crocker & Co. go to congress and ask that the land grant of the Texas Pacific road begiven to them, also: Let us compare what the government has done for the two roads. It gave the Texas and Pacific road less than 15,000,000 acres of land, all of it (except on the Colorado desert east of San Diego) in the territories of New Mexico and Arizona. Military officers familiar with the country have testified that the average value of this land grant is not one-half the government minimum price of $1 25 per acre; but allowing the full government minimum price, the value of the grant is in round numbers, $18,750,000. Here is a difference in favor of the Southern Pacific of $111,250,000; But let us carry out the comparison fully. Let us figure up the whole amount of national. State, municipal and private aid given to each corporation. According to the last report, the total amount of the land grant of the State of Texas to the Texas Pacific road is 4,951,905 acres, which is valued by the State land-department at an average of $2 per acre, or a total of $9,903,810. The aid granted by counties, towns, and otherwise, amounts in all, according to the flagures of the givers (not the company) to the sum of $785,000. Now let us recapitulate:

SOUTHERN PACIFIC.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC. Government land grant, value..... County, town and other aid..... $132,600,000 Total subsidy TEXAS PACIFIC.

ent land grant, value..... Texas land grant, value..... County, town and other ald... $29,438,810 .UMMARY. Total to Southern Pacific... Total to Texas Pacific.... Excess to Southern Pacific. $103,161,190

It will be observed that the government has given the Southern Pacific, in value, nearly seven times as much as it has given the Texas Pacific, while the total aid, from all sources, given the Southern Pa-cific is much more than four times that given the Texas Pacific. Sup't Union Cotton Compress. MEMPHIS, TRNS., August . 1877. ST. LOUIS COTTON TIE CO.: St. Louis Corros Tir Co.:

Gentlemen—I witnessed the trial of your Tie at the Merchants Press. It is as strong or stronger than any other Tie, and it is easily and rapidly fastened. When tied on a compressed bale, the rinds do not turn down and protrude cuward, thereby making better stowage than other ties now i use. I look up in it as a superior tie. Very respectfully, irst Premium Awarded by the Texas State Fair of 1877, the "Arrow Tie" Being One of Its Competitors.

OFFICE OF J. B. GODWIN & Co., COTTON FACTORS, MEMPHIS, TENN., August 24, 1877. MEMPHIS, TENN., August 24, 1877.

In offering to planters and merchants the Grip Tie, the following advantages are claimed for it: Simplicity of application, greater strength both of the Tie and Band, close adjustment and freedom from slip, which prevents any expansion of the baie, and the impossibility of removing the band without cutting it.

The importance of these advantages must be evident to planters, especially the greater strength of the bands. Whenever the band breaks the cotton is liable to be wasted or pillered; besides, most local freight rates on railroads and steamboats are so much per bale, also drayage and storage. Hence the importance of putting n_i heavy bales at plantation presses. presses.

The strength of the Grip Tie is from 2800 to 3000 pounds. The Arrow Tie, from 1800 to 2000 pounds. For compressing cotton bales we defy competitionand this, in the future, is to determine the merit of cotton ties, as the closer the cotton can be compressed the cheaper it can be transported from one point to another.

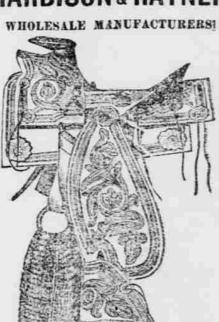

The recent reduction in the price of Ties was recently the to the competition of the Grip Tie. All probably due to the competition of the Grip Tie. All are aware that the American Tie Company have for years had a monopoly in the Tie business. This year, however, they are only offering the Arrow Tie. This they have placed in the hands of all dealers with whom they could contract to keep no other Tie in stock, endcavoring thereby to drive out all competition. Therefore, we claim it is to the interest of all consumers of Ties to use the Grip Tie: First, because it is superior in every respect to the Arrow Tie; second, because you are assisting to throw off the shackles of a monopoly.

Order through your own merchant, or direct from us; the price in either case shall be as low as the Arrow Tie.
